“ Over the past several days Jan and I have been recalling our times with George, Diana, and their family. We met them over forty years ago as we shared educational efforts for our children. George was caring, sincere, and ready to help despite his busy professional life. I always liked his sly grin, as though we shared some unspoken bit of irony or humor. I respected this man and he left a legacy of great skill and kindness.

“ I have plagiarized him for over twenty years - "Sometimes lucky is the best thing you can be." He would have been legendary among his peers based on skill and performance alone, but what endeared him to me, and I think most of us, was his humble, kind and caring soul. The epitome of an old-school professional physician. God speed to you Sir. - Ernie

“ I worked with Dr. Bilbrey for nearly 20 years at Mission Hospital in the CVOR. He was a great surgeon. I remember he was pretty particular about prepping and draping the patient for surgery. Especially in regards to the germs and making sure we got them all off. We had worked on call all night so the hospital let the O.R. Staff off the next day. When I got home and fell asleep I dreamt that we had operated on our patient outside! And thinking that Dr. Bilbrey would of been beside himself. When I told him about the dream, he turned and looked at me and said just as serious as he always did, "Mona, you know I would never do that", winked and smiled. I learned a lot from Dr. Bilbrey and feel honored to have known him. My deepest sympathies to his family.

“ I too worked with Dr. Bilbrey in CVICU for almost ten years and am honored to have known him. My story is that the day I came to work after being "lost" in the woods, he looked at his compass watch and said with a smile "here let me help you find your way" and of course we were in CVICU at the time. Deepest sympathies to his family.

“ We were saddened to hear of George's death. We have not often seen him and Diana since the old St. Genevieve/Gibbons Hall days, but we certainly enjoyed reminiscing and catching up when we did. Unfortunately we must leave town Friday morning, but we send our deep sympathy to Diana, George and Neville. Rob and Chris Israel

“ We can't begin to express what it meant to us to have George as a neighbor and a friend. He was such a kind, thoughtful and caring man who we admired so much. He always had a smile, possessed a great sense of humor and had a way of lifting the spirits and easing worries. He cared so much about everyone--his patients, his family and his friends.
Our thoughts and prayers are with you, Diana, and the family during these difficult days.

“ "The Bilb." My heart swells when I think of this man and the phrase, "they don't make them like they used to" comes to mind. Dr. Bilbrey was a class act. Excellent surgeon, provider, and human-being! It was an honor to care for his patients.

“ Dr. Bilbrey was a kind and gentle soul . He was the true definition of a gentleman and always dressed impeccably. He made a genuine effort to get to know the staff and his patients. I worked with Dr.Bilbrey for 34 years at Mission Hospital. He was greatly admired by his colleagues, staff members,patients and their families. With his vast knowledge and experience he was a great asset to the medical profession and our community . Dr. Bilbrey 's dedication to all endeavors made you want to achieve your best. It was a honor to know and work with him.

One of my fondest memories was the blizzard of 1993. After being stuck at Mission,the first morning in comes Dr. Bilbrey in a suit,starched white shirt and a tie. I hear his soft and gentle voice asked if we had any coffee. I knew we would all make it though this storm with him at our side.

Diana,I know you will be lost without him for quite awhile. His face would always light up and break out in a smile when I inquired about you. Please know you and your family are in my thoughts and prayers. May he rest in heaven where I know God took him.
